

Gather your Sparklers

We want you to be ready to share your unique talents, skills, strengths and gifts with the world, but we don't want you to do it on your own. Who are your Sparklers? You know who we mean: the people in your life who are always cheering you on, supporting you, happy to listen to you, want the best for you, and are delighted when you do well. Draw your people here:

Who are you a Sparkler for?
